This route offers breathtaking views of valleys and ancient sites, without any challenges as you will be walking on mountain roads. Start from an abandoned farm in the village of Sfarey, then walk along an asphalt road passing the SOS village towards Mrah el Amir Abs, a Roman tomb site.

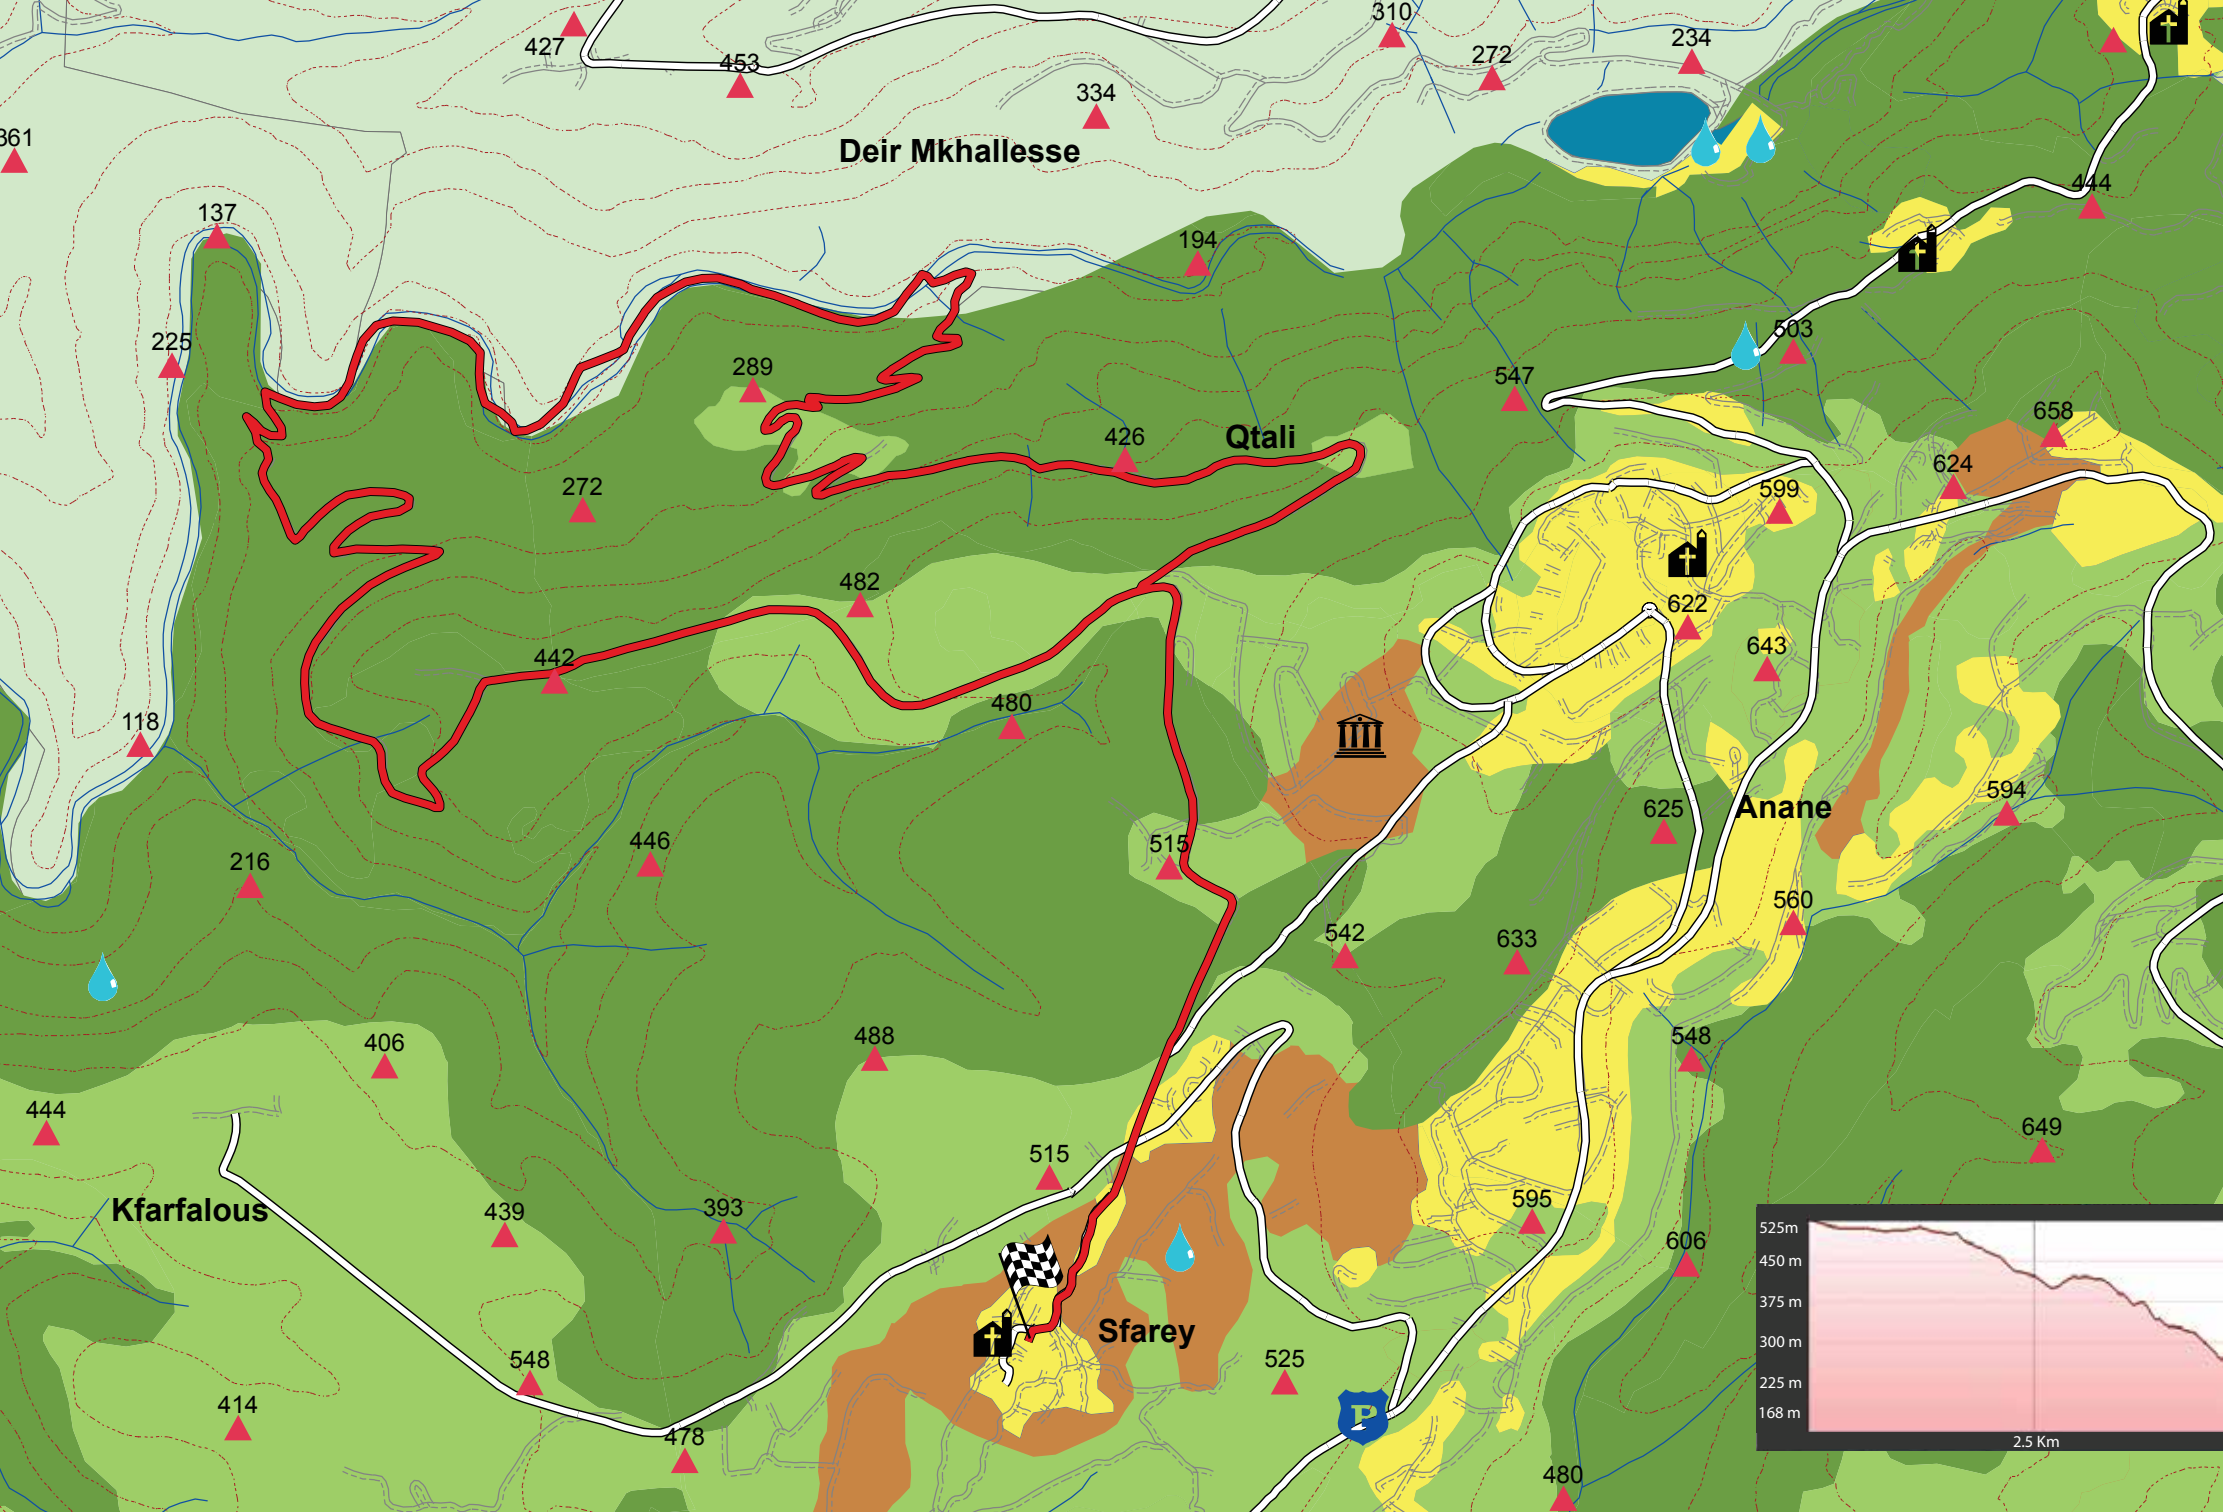

Continue, past an ancient water well, on the road, in spring lined with wild lavender, yellow thorny broom and thyme - the villagers of Sfarey call this road the Sun trail due to its exposure to the sun and the breathtaking view all the way to the Mediterranean.

Continue walking until the road ends - your reward will be the view of the beautiful Baanoub valley and the ancient Abou El Hosn Citadel. Take a break in the shade of the oak trees, then return along the same road back to the village.
